

Not that long ago, in a venue not that far, far away (2016 to be precise) we put on a concert for Star Wars fans in London that ran adjacent to Star Wars Celebration.

That night it trended worldwide on social media.

It had bands, themed cocktails, special guests, and limited edition SWAG.

In 2023 Star Wars Celebration is back in London, and so are we!

The bar will be raised! Do not miss a spectacle, long to be remembered!

Confirmed performers so far:

Blues Harvest have built up a most impressive (MOST impressive) reputation as the go-to party band for geek events, having played at comic-cons, space centres, and cantinas across the galaxy. With a knockout selection of songs from their favorite movies and TV shows, this band of space misfits has made a big impact at events worldwide. They have performed at Disneyland Paris, Star Wars Celebration in Chicago and London. They have previously been joined onstage by many Star Wars stars including David Collins, Vanessa Marshall, Jett Lucas, Mike Quinn, Taylor Gray, Stephen Costantino, Jerome Blake and Laurie Goode.

From his live debut at the first Star Wars Celebration Europe in 2007 the Dark King of the Sith has rocked n rolled his way through the Galaxy. Performing his Star Wars-themed parodies covering characters from Ackbar to Zuvio, Darth Elvis will have you dancing, singing and shouting HOT DANG!

Having appeared at fan events and Celebration in London, Chicago and Anaheim, no party would be complete without an appearance of the Dark King and #Cantina is no exception!

It's not a Star Wars Party without host, presenter, Comic-Con legend and world class international performer - DJ ELLIOT. Known as one of the top Pop Culture DJs in the world, he specializes in a mix of EDM, Top 40, Rock, Mashups and “nerd-centric” tunes. Whether it’s mixing a flawless set or leading the crowd with interactive entertainment, you can rely on DJ ELLIOTt for unparalleled music and entertainment.

LevelupLeroy is not your typical club DJ! Pushing the boundaries of live Audio-Visual performances and drawing on his love of popular culture he has become one of the top pop culture Video-DJ's in the world. Splitting his duties between hosting and performing at events, he constantly continues to develop fresh and unique ways of creating a super nerd-centric mash-up between EDM, K-Pop, Chip Tune, Rock the Pop and everything in-between! Internationally respected for his craft LevelUpLeroy continues to perform at events across the globe.
